

Dear

I am a representative in the Elizabethtown Area High School's Student Council. Our student council belongs to an organization called PASC. The mission of the Pennsylvania Association of Student Councils is to offer year-round opportunities to develop and apply leadership and life skills for middle level and high school students and their advisors throughout Pennsylvania. The process by which the association will accomplish their mission will be by disseminating information for building effective organizations, recognizing individual and school achievements, promoting community service, and providing positive enthusiastic forums for networking, sharing ideas, and partnering with state organizations that perpetuate civic engagement. More specifically, our district, district 8, includes schools from nine counties, Adams, Cumberland, Dauphin, Franklin, Juniata, Lancaster, Lebanon, Perry, and York. Our school is the Lancaster County representative on the board of district 8 for PASC.

This year, the EAHS Student Council has been given the opportunity to host the upcoming district eight conference that is held annually. Hosting the 2017 District Conference is a large responsibility, as this will entitle over 1,000 students from different student councils coming to our school for one day. Throughout the day of the conference, students will learn to expand their leadership skills and students will empower one another to be more involved in their council.

Hosting a student council district conference is a large upbringing, but also a great opportunity to inspire others. We, as the 2017 District Conference hosts would like to invite you to partner with us in hosting the conference. There are many ways you can partner with us, but our need lies in the demand of financial funds necessary to host the conference.

Sincerely,

Emma Lown and Kayla McEvoy,
2017 Distict 8 Conference Co-Chairs
